RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

Institute for the Study of International Development

Graduate Researcher

2013-Present

- This research position involved conducting a systematic review of the literature on family violence in indigenous communities, with a particular focus on indigenous communities found in developing countries. The end project resulted in a policy brief which outlined current initiatives and identified effective measures used to address family violence in these communities. The final draft of the policy brief has been published as working paper by the Institute for the Study of International Development and has been distributed to Aboriginal Affairs and Northern Development Canada.

- This research assistant position involves working with a research team to culminate data in a chart format delineating women's land tenure rights across a range of developing countries. This chart is the first of its kind is awaiting publication.

In this position, I am a member of a research team which is currently in the process of working on a paper on this topic for future publication. My specific roles involve conducting the data analysis portion of this paper which includes the use of event history analysis to establish factors that enhance women's access to land tenure rights developing countries.

University of Guelph's Research Shop- Institute for Community Engaged Research

Graduate Research Intern

2010-2011

- As a member of a research team, I served as a liaison between academia and the community. In doing so, I worked collaboratively with nonprofit and nongovernmental community agencies to address their research needs.
- Through research on promising practices and dialogue with 18 participating non-profit organizations within Guelph-Wellington and Waterloo Region, currently working on a research intern team to identify preferred models for collaboration in the areas of governance and leadership, administration/back office functions and program/service delivery.
Final project deliverables will include interview transcripts from 18-24 interviews with staff from non-profit organizations, a review of academic and grey literature on successful collaboration models for non-profit agencies, surveys inquiring collaboration techniques currently employed in these agencies, and a final 20 page summarizing project report.
- Via semi-structured interviews with members of the Guelph-Wellington Taskforce for Poverty Elimination, over an 8 month period collected and culminated instances of task force's success stories. Developed a system for the Poverty Task Force to periodically collect success stories in the future in order to draw from for future funding and publicity opportunities, November 2010
- Over a 3 month period, collected information through interviews on behalf of the Task Force for Poverty Elimination Food Accessibility Committee pertaining to the food sharing activities and capacity to facilitate the establishment of a collective kitchen initiative of religious institutions in the Guelph region, April 2010
- Contributed to the annotative bibliography portion of the Waterloo Health Unit's Ontario government grant proposal for a prospective low income dental plan, March 2010
