

McGill

Cosponsored by the Department of Art History and Communication Studies with the McGill Department of East Asian Studies, and the Departments of Comparative Literature and also English Studies at Université de Montréal.

Elizabeth Grosz

Professor of Women's and Gender Studies
Rutgers University

"A Thousand Tiny Architects? Art and the Animal"

Thursday, September 10, 2009
5:30 p.m.

Arts Building, Room 215
853 Sherbrooke Street West

For information, please contact:

Pauline Nesbitt, 514-398-4114, pauline.nesbitt@mcgill.ca, or
Sébastien Breau, 514-398-3242, sebastien.breau@mcgill.ca

The public is welcome. Admission is free.

Conférence publique. L'entrée est gratuite.

Made possible by a grant from the Beatty Memorial Lectures Committee and co-sponsored with the McGill Department of East Asian Studies, and the Departments of Comparative Literature and English Studies at Université de Montréal.

Cette conférence est présentée grâce à l'aide financière du Comité des conférences commémoratives Beatty.