How To Write A Cover Letter
A cover letter is about FIT, about identifying the match you see between your skills and qualifications and the employer’s needs. Simply regurgitating your CV in sentence form is a missed opportunity; instead your cover letter should focus on the key reasons you are a good candidate for this particular position. Your CV is an outline, your cover letter should bring it to life! Before you sit down to write, ask yourself what you would like the employer to know about you, why you want the job, and why you think they should hire you.

There are multiple ways to set out information in a cover letter. In general, your introductory paragraph should give some context for your application (who are you and why you are writing) as well as providing a glimpse into your motivation. If someone referred you to the posting or the organization, you may mention their name. It can be helpful to end your first paragraph with a clear and specific “thesis” which explains exactly why you are a good fit. In the body of your letter you then back up your assertions with additional details and examples which draw connections between your background and the skills/experience the employer is seeking. Conclude your letter with a little more information about your motivation to work for this company/industry, and thank the reader for their time and consideration.

CUSTOMIZING YOUR APPLICATION

• Keep your letter concise and limited to one page. This likely means you cannot talk about everything, so don’t try. Rather, your job is to synthesize the information, focusing on the key elements of your application.

• It is always preferable to address your letter to a specific individual. Contact the receptionist or HR department to see if they can provide you with the name of the appropriate person. If need be, you may start your letter using a salutation such as “Dear Sir or Madam” or “Dear Hiring Committee” or “To Human Resources”.

• Avoid writing one generic cover letter for use in all your applications. Employers can tell. As much as possible, your letter needs to be TAILORED to each position/employer/industry.

• Research the industry, employer and position for which you are applying. Your cover letter should demonstrate that you know something about the organization and articulate how you are a good fit.

• PROOFREAD your letter extremely carefully. Try reading it from bottom to top, or reading out loud to detect errors more easily. Ask friends, family, classmates or a career advisor to review it.

• Aim for a confident, factual tone. Highlight your achievements/experience, but don’t embellish.

• Don’t be afraid of sounding excited about the opportunity! Keen is good.

ADDITIONAL POINTS

How to Write a Cover Letter
How to Write a Cover Letter

Copyright © 2017 McGill Career Planning Service

COVER LETTER SAMPLE

Sally Green

August 7, 20xx

Ms. Kate Jordan
Personnel Manager
Human Resources Department
Community Board of Health
203 Main Street
Mistissini, Quebec G0W 1C0

Re: Application for Health Educator position

Dear Ms. Jordan,

As a Bachelor of Arts and Science graduate of McGill’s Biomedical and International Development program with a particular interest in working with an aboriginal population, I was immediately drawn to your advertisement on the CaPS myFuture website. I am confident that the combination of my academic background, my clinical and research experience in hospital settings, and my passion for working with children and expectant mothers makes me an ideal candidate for this position.

During the course of my degree I have pursued a number of electives in First Nations and Inuit Studies and would welcome the opportunity to work directly with an aboriginal population and make a difference within the community. My Arts and Science degree covered many facets including biochemical and human behavioral sciences, community nutrition and research development, and included internships with a strong practical component, which allowed me to put my skills and knowledge to use in a variety of clinical settings in developing countries.

The Community Board of Health works in both a hospital and community setting, and is participating in an on-going research project on preventative medicine within a northern aboriginal community. Two of my recent internships were in hospital settings, where I gained valuable experience and honed my communication and presentation skills while providing health education to individuals on topics such as HIV/AIDS, diabetes and hygiene education for children and expectant mothers. In addition to my health education duties, I participated in research on preventative care for pregnant women, several of whom were aboriginal.

I would welcome the opportunity to apply my skills and experience with the Cree Board of Health, and to contribute to increased health awareness in northern Quebec. Thank you in advance for your review and consideration of my application, and I look forward to your response at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

Sally Green

123 Lala Street • CITY • Quebec • H9X 2E6
firstname.lastname@mail.mcgill.ca • 514-123-4567

How to Write a Cover Letter

Providing your contact information in a header that matches your CV makes your application look professional and cohesive.

Subject line indicating the position you are applying for.

Specific “Thesis” explaining why you are a good fit for the position.

If you are sending your letter electronically, write a brief email indicating your Cover Letter and CV are attached.

Signature

Making the link between their activities and your experience is a good way to show motivation.

Each paragraph provides evidence of your past experience that fits the new position.

Introductory sentence providing some information about you and context for your application.
Programs & Services

Ask a Career Advisor
Ask your career questions online and one of our career advisors will get back to you, usually within 48 hours.

McGill Mentor Program
Explore jobs and industries of interest. Get connected to a McGill alumnus/ae working in your dream field.

Career Leadership Program
Become a Career Leader and promote CaPS across our campuses while developing your own leadership skills.

myFuture
Log on to caps.myfuture.mcgill.ca for an extensive listing of jobs and internships. Register for CaPS events, browse publications and view employer profiles.

CV & Advising Drop-In
Drop-in hours are available to undergraduate and graduate students, whether you would like your CV reviewed or have a quick question.

P.A.C.E.
Join other students in this 10 hour/4 week program which helps you explore personal goals, values, interests and career options.

McGill Career Planning Service (Downtown)
William & Mary Brown Student Services Building
3600 Mctavish, Suite 2200
Montreal, QC H3A 0G3
514-398-3304

McGill Career Planning Service (Macdonald)
Centennial Centre
21,111 Lakeshore Road
Ste-Anne-de-Bellevue, QC H9X 3V9
514-398-7582

Online Resources

CaPS Website - www.mcgill.ca/caps
Your main portal to the services offered by CaPS and a wealth of information related to career exploration and job search.

Explore by Major - www.mcgill.ca/caps/students/explore/major
CaPS has compiled targeted career information for your major to give you some ideas of where to go next.

MyWorldAbroad - myworldabroad.com/mcgill
The authoritative guide to international careers. 4,000+ searchable resources, articles and inspiring student stories.

General Job Listings - www.mcgill.ca/caps/students/job/jobsearch
This page contains links to many job listings sites to help you find career and job opportunities.

Downloadable career guidebooks, insider company surveys, industry profiles, career tips, jobs and internships. Information on companies in consulting, finance, law, marketing, public relations, accounting and business-related industries can be found here.

Going Global - online.goingglobal.com
16 million worldwide job and internship listings, employer profiles, and country-specific career information.

Career Cruising - public.careercruising.com/en/
Comprehensive resource to look up Canadian occupational information, educational paths and university programs.

Copyright © 2017 McGill Career Planning Service
Concept and Content: Jan Bottomer
Design: Nivit Kochhar