Calls

Special issue of Forum Qualitative Sozialforschung on "Challenging Times--Qualitative Methods and Methodological Approaches to Research on Time"

Contributions may be submitted in German or English

Click here for more information.

Events

SOLIDARITY UNITY TOLERANCE PEACE

Huddle for Action and Social Justice

CRCF conference room (suite 106), 3506 rue University

Some CRCF members decided to join together to create a Huddle - a gathering of people who wish to define next steps, and envision how to transform the energy shown at the Women's Marches into local and national action. During monthly meetings held at the Centre for Research on Children and Families, Huddlers identify social issues they are concerned about and develop strategies to act on.

Members can also connect by videoconferencing or teleconferencing. For more information or to join the Huddle, please contact Jennifer Nutton.

Qualitative Data Analysis Group (QDAG)

Center for Research on Children and Families, suite 106, 3506 rue University

The QDAG is a space for social work doctoral students to work independently with others to be able to ask questions as they emerge during data analysis. The QDAG is not a discussion group. It is a work-focused group to move students forward through the data analysis phase of the dissertation with the support of others. For more information and for the upcoming meeting times, please contact Gina Glidden or Jennifer Nutton.

Job/Scholarship Opportunities

Research Fellow – Qualitative Research CALIBRE study – Vacancy 59344

University of Birmingham, Institute of Applied Health Research

Fixed term contract for 18 months

Deadline July 22, 2018

We are seeking to appoint a Qualitative Research Fellow (Grade 7) within the Institute of Applied Health Research to undertake qualitative research as part of the pilot phase of the NIHR-funded CALIBRE Study. CALIBRE is a trial examining the primary prevention of variceal bleeding in patients with liver cirrhosis. Qualitative research integrated with the pilot phase is designed to look at issues concerning recruitment to the trial, and also to understand participants' experiences of the trial treatments (Carvedilol and variceal band ligation). This is a significant opportunity to contribute to the CALIBRE Study. The post will involve primary qualitative data collection, analysis, interpretation, reporting to the trial management group, and writing for peer-reviewed publications and project reports.

The postholder will be based in the Institute of Applied Health Research at the University of Birmingham. The post offers the opportunity to work with senior qualitative researchers, clinical academics and trial researchers. We expect that the successful candidate will have significant relevant experience of conducting qualitative research, ideally within a clinical trials context. Informal enquiries to Dr Jonathan Mathers (j.m.mathers@bham.ac.uk 0121 414 6024).

Research Fellow – RDS West Midlands (Qualitative Research) – Vacancy 56832

University of Birmingham, Institute of Applied Health Research

Fixed Term Contract until 30/09/2023

Deadline July 22, 2018

The postholder will (1) provide advice on research methods to health care professionals and researchers and assist in the development of research funding proposals to national peer-reviewed funding programmes in response to requests through the Research Design Service West Midlands (RDSWM) with Jonathan Mathers (RDS WM, Director Birmingham Hub). (2) conduct qualitative and mixed methods research, predominantly in relation to trials, trial feasibility and outcome-related research, in the Institute of Applied Health Research alongside Jonathan Mathers. Informal enquiries to Dr Jonathan Mathers (j.m.mathers@bham.ac.uk 0121 414 6024). Link to vacancy: <https://bit.ly/2KotpQm>

Release of Relationships Matter for Youth 'Aging Out' of Care Project Video and Photo E-Book!

Child welfare legislation in Canada requires youth in long-term government care to transition to adulthood and become self-sufficient at the age of majority - a phenomenon termed as 'aging out' of care. Due to this cut-off of services, youth exiting care tend to have limited support networks, and most of their connections during their time in care are formal, paid for and have an expiry date.

This past fall, Melanie Doucet, a PhD candidate at the McGill School of Social Work and a former youth in care, led a collaborative photovoice project alongside 8 former youth in care in the Greater Vancouver area between the ages of 19 and 29. The Relationships Matter for Youth 'Aging Out' of Care project aimed to take a closer look - through the power of images and accompanying captions - at supportive relationships in the lives of young people from care and how those relationships can be developed and nurtured over time. A photo exhibit open to the community was held at the end of the project, and was attended by several key government officials and community organization representatives.

This project video is being released to raise awareness on the issue of relational permanency for youth in and from care, and to showcase the talents of young people from care in BC. You can view it here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5lmPDZ360ow>

You can also view the co-researchers' powerful photography work and accompanying captions in the Relationships Matter Photo E-Book:

Articles for CRCF's ON THE RADAR

If you are not aware, CRCF's On the Radar publication is a dissemination initiative that promotes its members research. On the Radar can be used to publish preliminary data, a pilot study, a policy paper or findings from a small project that are not suitable for a journal publication. It can also be used to provide a product to a partner.

Please contact pamela.weightman@mcgill.ca if you would like to submit an article for publication.
