

MCGILL FAMILY MEDICINE RESEARCH SEMINARS

“MAYAN WOMEN’S PARTICIPATION IN THEIR OWN HEALTH CARE IN GUATEMALA”

Dr. Anne Marie Chomat

Anne Marie Chomat MD PhD MPH is a postdoctoral fellow in McGill Family Medicine (PRAM) and Research Fellow at CIET International in Guatemala. She is a physician with special focus on women's engagement in reproductive health, pregnancy and motherhood using participatory, collective, holistic and culturally safe approaches. Her projects include the co-design and implementation of a group psychosocial intervention for marginalized, indigenous women in Guatemala, and, as the researcher in McGill's patient-researcher dyad of the Réseaux Universitaires Intégrés en Santé (RUIS), the strengthening of the patient engagement strategy across McGill.

Thursday October 19, 2017
From 12:30-2:00 p.m.
Department of Family Medicine
5858 ch. de la Côte-des-Neiges, 3rd floor, suite 300

BRING YOUR LUNCH! There will be light refreshments.
There is no parking on site, and parking is limited in the area.
Taxis and public transport are advised.

Cannot make the seminar physically, but would like to attend?

Please register for the webinar here.

(Note: Students from FMED 504 are expected to attend)

McGill

Department of
Family Medicine | Département de
médecine de famille