TOPIC: DISCRIMINATION

The notion of discrimination is a cornerstone of many bills of rights and other human rights instruments, such as the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms and the European Convention on Human Rights. The first part of the seminar will focus on philosophical questions raised by the notion of discrimination, such as: What is discrimination and how does it differ from differential treatment? What is the difference between direct and indirect discrimination? What makes discrimination morally wrong? Is discrimination always morally wrong? The second part of the seminar will focus on examples of unlawful discrimination such as discrimination based on race, gender, disability or sexual orientation. Readings will include selections from Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen, Born Free and Equal? A Philosophical Inquiry into the Nature of Discrimination (OUP 2014); Benjamin Eidelson, Discrimination and Disrespect (OUP 2015) and Kasper Lippert Rasmussen (ed), The Routledge Handbook of the Ethics of Discrimination (Routledge 2017).
