1 Introduction

The Faculty of Science is currently working on several initiatives to increase research opportunities in our undergraduate program. This document proposes one such initiative, the Dean’s Undergraduate Research List, which is intended to provide a way of acknowledging students who have participated in substantial and broad undergraduate research.

1.1 Requirements

To be placed on the Dean’s Undergraduate Research List at graduation time, students must have completed at least 9 credits of research-based courses as specified in the list of approved research courses (see Section 1.2). These courses must be completed with an average GPA of at least 3.0 and must include courses from at least two different departments.

1.2 List of approved research-based courses in the Faculty of Science

Members of the academic committee are asked to propose courses from their units which should be on this list. A proposal should give the course number and title, and a brief description of why it should be considered a research-based course. Proposals should be sent by e-mail to laurie.hendren@mcgill.ca (plain text documents are preferred).
